

Vault is hiring: Research Analyst Interns

Location: Remote

Duration: 3 months

Type: Internship (Paid)

Vault is looking for two highly motivated Research Analyst Interns to join our team for a 3-month paid internship. This is an excellent opportunity to gain hands-on experience across a range of sectors, including transactions, infrastructure, fintech, agritech, and real estate.

We are hiring for the following two roles:

1. Research Analyst Intern (Finance)

We're looking for someone who:

- has a good understanding of financial markets, capital flows, and investment strategies
- follows industry and market developments
- is eager to contribute to finance-driven insights and research

2. Research Analyst Intern (Macroeconomics & Quantitative Analysis)

We're looking for someone who:

- understands macroeconomic trends and their implications for markets and policy
- is confident in quantitative analysis and working with data
- enjoys uncovering insights through numbers and patterns

What you will do (both roles)

- Support the team in producing high-quality, data-backed research and visual content
- Track key developments across economic and sectoral themes
- Assist in data collection, structuring, and interpretation
- Contribute to both internal analysis and public-facing materials

Candidate profile:

- Graduate or master's student in Economics, Finance, or a related field
- Genuine interest in the specific focus area (Finance or Macro/Quant)
- Comfortable conducting research and summarizing findings clearly
- Familiar with spreadsheets or data tools (e.g., Excel, Google Sheets)
- Self-motivated, detail-oriented, and eager to learn

What Vault offers:

- ✓ Paid, remote internship with flexible hours
- ✓ Exposure to diverse sectors: transactions, infrastructure, fintech, agritech, and real estate
- ✓ Opportunity to contribute to insightful, real-world research
